Report Highlights

Office of the Arizona State Treasurer Annual financial statement and compliance audits

The Arizona State Treasurer's fiscal year 2022 reported financial information is reliable. We did not report any deficiencies or noncompliance.

Audit's purpose

To express our opinion on the Arizona State Treasurer's financial statements and, if applicable, to report findings over noncompliance with certain laws and regulations or other financial deficiencies.

Treasurer manages the State's and local governments' investments

The Arizona State Treasurer's primary function is holding and investing monies on behalf of State agencies including land trust funds and local governments such as cities and towns, special taxing districts, counties, and community college districts. It is responsible for maintaining effective internal controls that ensure the integrity of its financial and accounting information and accountability for its stewardship and use of public monies.
